AUDITORS' REPORT

To The Governing Council of The Salvation Army in Canada

We have audited the balance sheet of The Governing Council of The Salvation Army in Canada ("The Salvation Army") as at March 31, 2010 and the statements of operations, changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of The Salvation Army's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as explained in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In common with many charitable organizations, The Salvation Army derives part of its revenue from the general public in the form of donations and legacies, the completeness of which is not susceptible of satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of revenue from these sources was limited to the amounts recorded in The Salvation Army's records and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donations and legacies revenue, excess (deficiency) of revenue over expenses and allocations, fund balances and assets.

In our opinion, except for the effect of adjustments, if any, which we might have determined to be necessary had we been able to satisfy ourselves concerning the completeness of the donations and legacies revenue referred to in the preceding paragraph, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Salvation Army as at March 31, 2010 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Year ended March 31, 2010

The Governing Council of The Salvation Army in Canada ("The Salvation Army" or the "Organization") is a religious, charitable and not-for-profit organization, incorporated by a special Act of Parliament and registered by Canada Revenue Agency for tax-deductible contributions.

The Salvation Army, as an international movement, is an evangelical branch of the Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible; its ministry is motivated by love for God and the needs of humanity. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ, supply basic human needs, provide personal counselling, and undertake the spiritual and moral regeneration and physical rehabilitation of all persons in need who come within its sphere of influence regardless of race, creed, sex or age.

The Salvation Army is comprised of approximately 500 individual ministry units, scattered throughout all 10 Canadian provinces, the Yukon, Nunavut, and the Northwest Territories, as well as in Bermuda. Its territorial headquarters is located in Toronto, Ontario, and there are divisional headquarters in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, London, Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, St. John's, and Hamilton, Bermuda.

The Salvation Army's operations in Canada and Bermuda (collectively the "Territory") include corps (churches), community centres, hospitals, long-term care facilities, hospices, transitional housing, shelters, addictions and rehabilitation centres, and various other social programs.

1. Basis of presentation:

These financial statements present, in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, the assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and cash flows of the Territorial Headquarters ("THQ"), the nine Divisional Headquarters ("DHQ"), National Recycling Operations ("NRO"), the colleges of The Salvation Army in Canada and Bermuda and Grace Communities Corporation ("GCC"). They include the real estate for all Salvation Army entities in the Territory because the Organization has legal title to it. Also included are funds held in trust for all Salvation Army entities in the Territory.

Separate financial statements are prepared for all Salvation Army operations, including corps and community churches, institutions, hospitals and GCC.

1. Basis of presentation (continued):

(a) Operating Fund:

The purpose of the Operating Fund is to record the day-to-day operations of THQ, DHQ, NRO, colleges and GCC, including the receipt and use of donations and legacies with no external restrictions.

(b) Restricted Funds:

(i) Endowment Fund:

The purpose of the Endowment Fund is to record the accumulation of externally restricted endowment contributions and unrestricted amounts internally designated as endowments.

External restrictions refer to any conditions or specific uses that have been requested or required by the donor(s) in making a gift to The Salvation Army. Internal restrictions refer to those funds which management has earmarked for specific purposes, where the donors have not placed any restrictions on their use.

(ii) Other Restricted Funds:

The Other Restricted Funds record the receipt and use of funds for the National Red Shield Appeal campaigns, the World Services Appeal campaigns, donations and legacies with external restrictions other than endowments and transactions impacting internally restricted reserves. Funds raised through the National Red Shield Appeal campaigns are used to support the social and community services work of The Salvation Army in Canada and Bermuda. Funds raised through the World Services Appeal campaign are used to support the work of The Salvation Army internationally.

(iii) Capital Fund:

The purpose of the Capital Fund is to record the real estate for all Salvation Army entities in the Territory.

2. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Cash and cash equivalents:

The Salvation Army considers deposits in banks, certificates of deposit and other short-term investments with original maturities of 90 days or less at the date of acquisition as cash and cash equivalents.

(b) Inventories:

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Inventories are included on the balance sheet as other current assets. Donated inventory is not reflected in these financial statements.

(c) Securities:

Securities are classified as available-for-sale and stated at fair value. The change in the difference between the fair value and cost of securities at the beginning and end of each year is reflected in the statement of changes in fund balances. Equities and fixed income securities are valued at year-end quoted market prices. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of securities are not considered significant and are expensed when paid. Investment purchases and sales transactions are accounted for on the settlement date.

(d) Financial instruments other than securities:

The Organization designates its cash and cash equivalents as held-for-trading, which is measured at fair value. Receivables and loans receivable, principally from Salvation Army entities, are classified as loans and receivables, which are measured at amortized cost. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities, restricted deposits held principally for Salvation Army entities and mortgages payable are classified as other financial liabilities, which are measured at amortized cost.

The Organization uses interest rate swaps to manage fluctuations in interest rates on long-term mortgages. The interest rate swaps are used for risk management purposes only and do not meet the criteria for hedge accounting, as specified by The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA"). Variations in the fair value are marked to market on a current basis, with the resulting gains or losses recorded in the statement of operations. The Salvation Army's policy is not to utilize derivative financial instruments for investment purposes.

The Organization has adopted the CICA's Handbook Section 3861, Financial Instruments - Disclosure and Presentation. In accordance with the Accounting Standards Board's decision to exempt not-for-profit organizations from the disclosure requirements with respect to financial instruments contained within Section 3862, Financial Instruments - Disclosures, and Section 3863, Financial Instruments - Presentation, the Organization has elected not to adopt these standards in its financial statements.

(e) Capital assets:

Land is carried at cost or fair market value, if donated, at the date of acquisition and is not amortized.

Buildings are stated at cost, less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 40 years.

Furniture and equipment with cost exceeding $5 is stated at cost, less accumulated amortization. Amortization is computed on a straight-line basis over their respective lives ranging from three to 10 years.

During construction of buildings, interest is paid monthly on contributions in excess of costs accumulated or charged on costs in excess of contributions based on the average balance of the project account. Interest paid is recognized as contributions to the project upon capitalization, and interest charged is capitalized as a cost of the project. Interest rates are set monthly by The Salvation Army based on prevailing rates available in the market.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(f) Contributions of materials and services:

Contributions of materials and services are not recognized in these financial statements. Revenue from the disposition of contributions of materials and services is recognized as revenue at the point of sale.

(g) Revenue recognition:

The Salvation Army follows the restricted fund method of accounting for restricted contributions and endowments. Restricted contributions and endowments are recognized as revenue of the appropriate restricted fund.

Contributions and grants are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Revenue from legacies and donations are recorded when received.

Investment income, which is recorded on the accrual basis, includes interest income, dividends and capital gains (losses) on the sale of securities.

Revenue from ancillary operations includes rental of facilities, sales of used clothing and other donated goods by the NRO, sales of materials and publications. Sales revenue is recognized as revenue at the point of sale.

Management Support Assessment and other levies received from corps, community churches and institutions are recognized as revenue earned to offset the cost of certain national programs and administration. These transactions are measured at the exchange amount, which is the amount of consideration established and agreed to by both parties.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(h) Retirement benefits:

(i) Officers' retirement benefits:

The Salvation Army maintains a non-contributory defined benefit pension plan for officers. All officers are eligible for enrolment in the plan following completion of two years' service. Officers of The Salvation Army are individuals who have relinquished secular employment in response to a spiritual calling, so as to devote all their time and energies to the service of God and the people and who, having successfully completed the required period of training, are commissioned as officers and ordained as ministers of the gospel of Jesus Christ. The Salvation Army also provides other post-retirement benefits to eligible officers. Other post-retirement benefits include supplementary allowances, medical and dental benefits. The Salvation Army uses actuarial reports prepared by independent actuaries for funding and accounting purposes.

The Salvation Army accrues its obligations under benefit plans and the related costs, net of plan assets. The following policies have been adopted:

- (a) the cost of pensions and the other post-retirement benefits earned by officers are actuarially determined using the projected benefit method pro-rated on service and management's best estimate of expected plan investment performance, salary escalation, retirement ages of officers and expected health care costs;
- (b) for purposes of calculating the expected return on plan assets, those assets are valued at fair value;
- (c) the discount rate used to determine the accrued benefit obligation was determined by reference to market interest rates at the measurement date on high-quality debt instruments with cash flows that match the timing and amount of expected benefit payments;
- (d) for pension and other post-retirement benefits, the excess of the net actuarial gain (loss) over 10% of the greater of the benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets is amortized over the average remaining service life of active officers. The average remaining service period of the active officers is 13.5 years; and

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(e) upon adoption of the current accounting standard, a transitional asset was calculated, which is amortized over the average remaining service period of active officers expected to receive benefits under the benefit plan, which was 15 years at the time of adoption.

(ii) Employees' retirement benefits:

The Salvation Army makes regular contributions to a group Registered Retirement Savings Plan, administered by a third party, on behalf of each eligible employee. All permanent full-time and part-time employees are eligible for enrolment in the plan following completion of three months of continuous service.

(i) Translation of foreign currencies:

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies have been translated into Canadian dollars at exchange rates prevailing at the year-end date. Revenue and expenses and allocations have been translated using exchange rates prevailing on the transaction date. Gains and losses arising from these translation policies are included in the statement of operations.

(j) GCC life leases:

(i) Guaranteed:

Life leases for which the resident is guaranteed a refund of 90% of the purchase price on vacating the unit are accounted for as life lease proceeds - guaranteed when the resident takes possession of the unit, except for the non-guaranteed 10%, which is recognized as revenue. Prior to possession, cash deposits and instalments paid are recorded as deposits on life leases.

(ii) Non-guaranteed:

Life leases for which the resident is not guaranteed any portion of their purchase price on vacating the unit are recognized as sales of the unit when the resident takes possession. Prior to possession, cash deposits and instalments paid are recorded as deposits on life leases.

2. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(k) Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses and allocations during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Changes in accounting policies:

(a) Amendments to accounting standards that apply to not-for-profit organizations:

Effective April 1, 2009, the Organization adopted the CICA amendments to Section 4400, Financial Statement Presentation by Not-for-Profit Organizations, of the CICA Handbook. Amongst other items, these amendments eliminate the requirement to show net assets invested in capital assets as a separate component of net assets, clarify the requirement for revenue and expenses to be presented on a gross basis when the not-for-profit organization is acting as principal and require a statement of cash flows. Adoption of these recommendations had no significant impact on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2010.

(b) Amendments to Section 1000, Financial Statement Concepts ("Section 1000"):

Effective April 1, 2009, the Organization adopted the CICA amendments to Section 1000 of the CICA Handbook. These amendments clarified the criteria for recognition of an asset or liability, removing the ability to recognize assets or liabilities solely on the basis of matching of revenue and expense items. Adoption of these recommendations had no effect on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2010.

4. Credit facilities:

The Salvation Army has Canadian dollar demand, revolving operating facilities (lines of credit) with two Canadian banks for up to $7,000 (2009 - $7,000). The facilities are to cover Canadian and U.S. dollar overdrafts, as well as standby letters of credit. In addition, The Salvation Army has a demand, revolving capital project facility of up to $4,000 (2009 - $4,000) with a Canadian bank to cover a certain percentage of the cost of construction or provide bridge financing on specified real estate and capital improvement projects. These lines of credit bear interest at the prime rate. At year end, The Salvation Army had not drawn on these lines of credit, other than to issue standby letters of credit in the amount of $639 (note 19(a)).

6. Financial instruments:

(a) Investment risk management:

Risk management relates to the understanding and active management of risks associated with all areas of The Salvation Army and the associated operating environment. Investments are primarily exposed to interest rate, market and foreign currency risks. The Organization has formal policies and procedures that establish target asset mix. The Organization's policies also require diversification of investments within categories, and set limits on exposure to individual investments.

(b) Interest rate risk:

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect the value of fixed income securities held by the Organization. This risk is managed by staggering the terms of the securities held, and ensuring diversification of the holdings such that no single security, other than Government of Canada or provincial bonds, represents more than 5% of the fixed income component of the portfolio.

6. Financial instruments (continued):

The Salvation Army is exposed to interest rate risk on the financing of eight (2009 - six) of its properties. The Salvation Army has entered into interest rate swaps with major Canadian banks to exchange the variable interest payments on all its variable rate mortgages for fixed interest rates, ranging from 4.62% to 6.27%. As of March 31, 2010, the swaps had a notional amount totalling $28,709 (2009 - $23,647) that reduces on a basis consistent with the principal value of the underlying debt. The swaps mature on dates from November 30, 2010 to November 1, 2023. The fair value of the interest rate swaps at March 31, 2010 is a loss of $1,828 (2009 - $3,836). By effectively converting the interest rates from variable to fixed, The Salvation Army has eliminated the volatility, consistent with its interest rate risk management objectives.

(c) Market risk:

Market risk arises as a result of trading in equity securities and fixed income securities. Fluctuations in the market expose the Organization to a risk of loss. The Organization mitigates this risk through controls to monitor and limit concentration levels.

(d) Foreign currency risk:

As of March 31, 2010, 28% (2009 - 25%) of the investments are invested in non-Canadian equities. Foreign currency risk arises from gains and losses due to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates on the Organization's foreign securities. The Organization does not hedge its foreign currency risk on these investments. The philosophy of the Organization, and its global investment management service provider, is that since the portfolio is managed such as individual securities are held for the long term, and investments are held in multiple currencies, any foreign exchange risk should be minimized in the long term without the need for a hedging strategy to be implemented.

Within the fixed income component of the portfolio, the Organization's statement of investment policies and procedures allows investment managers to hold a limited amount of non-Canadian bonds and when they do so, to employ forward contracts to eliminate any related foreign currency risk.

7. Loans receivable:

The Salvation Army provides loans to Salvation Army entities to assist in the funding of capital projects and, in some circumstances, for operating purposes.

At March 31, 2010, interest-bearing loans receivable, principally from Salvation Army entities, were $12,100 (2009 - $12,543). Interest bearing loans from external parties total $370 (2009 - $383). These loans bear interest from 1.00% to 8.75% (2009 - 3.00% to 8.75%) and are to be repaid by fixed amounts over various terms.

Net non-interest bearing loans receivable primarily from Salvation Army entities total $1,346 (2009 - $1,215).

A charitable remainder trust is an arrangement by which property or money is donated to a charity, but the donor continues to use the property and/or receive income from it while living. Charitable remainder trusts amounted to $3,239 (2009 - $3,239).

During the year, $214 (2009 - $216) of interest was capitalized to construction in progress.

10. Mortgages payable:

Mortgages payable bear interest at rates ranging from 2.00% to 9.63% with an average interest rate of approximately 5.64% (2009 - 5.75%) and extend for terms of up to 33 years from March 31, 2010. Some of these mortgages are subsidized by governments so that the effective interest rate to The Salvation Army is reduced. The repayment of the principal and interest on these mortgages is the responsibility of the local Salvation Army entities occupying the mortgaged properties.

Included in this balance is a mortgage related to the Winnipeg Catherine Booth College that has a balance owing of $328 (2009 - $357).

The aggregate amount of principal repayments required in each of the next five years and thereafter is as follows:

2011	$	9,661
2012		9,106

11. Deposits on life leases (continued):

Under the guaranteed life lease contracts, GCC has committed to each life occupancy resident that upon termination of the resident's life lease, GCC will attempt to lease the unit and reimburse the resident from the proceeds. As a minimum, GCC has guaranteed that the resident will receive not less than 90% of the original amount of the life lease proceeds. While repayment of these life lease proceeds could be required at any time, in management's opinion, it is unlikely that material amounts of such repayments will be required in the next year.

12. Management of capital:

The Organization defines its capital as the amounts included in its fund balances. The Organization's objective when managing its capital is to safeguard the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern so that it can continue to provide the appropriate level of benefits and services to the public.

A portion of the Organization's capital is restricted in that the Organization is required to meet certain requirements in order to utilize its externally restricted funds, as described in note 1(b). The Organization sets the amount of internally restricted funds in proportion to risk, manages the net asset structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets.

18. Lease obligations:

The Salvation Army has lease commitments for premises of Salvation Army entities. These leases are funded by individual entities and expire on or before 2057. The lease payments are due as follows:

2011	$ 15,280

2014	6,268
2015	4,119
Thereafter	3,321
	<hr/>
	$ 47,799

The Salvation Army has agreed to indemnify the landlords against losses occurring on the leased premises.

19. Contingencies and commitments:

(a) Letters of credit and letters of comfort:

The Salvation Army enters into agreements in the normal course of operations that contain features which meet the definition of a guarantee, according to the CICA Handbook. Various debt obligations (such as overdrafts and lines of credit) related to certain controlled organizations have been directly guaranteed by The Salvation Army under such agreements with third parties. The Salvation Army would be required to perform on these guarantees in the event of default by the guaranteed parties. No material loss is anticipated by reason of such agreements and guarantees.

In prior years, life lease loans were advanced by a Canadian bank in connection with the purchase of guaranteed life lease units. GCC and The Salvation Army guaranteed the life lease loans to a maximum of $1,335 (2009 - $1,335). At March 31, 2010, the remaining outstanding accumulated balance of the life lease loans is not significant to these financial statements and no future life lease loans will be advanced.

19. Contingencies and commitments (continued):

As of March 31, 2010, The Salvation Army had issued letters of credit totalling $639 (2009 - $852). These are primarily irrevocable standby letters of credit issued in favour of municipalities and other entities requiring performance guarantees on projects undertaken by The Salvation Army.

(b) Government funding for capital projects:

The Salvation Army receives funding for certain capital projects from the federal and provincial governments' various programs. This funding is considered a grant as long as The Salvation Army continues to meet the terms of the agreements. In the case of default, the funding is repayable to the government. At year end, The Salvation Army had $16,633 (2009 - $15,662) of such funding. Management believes that it is currently in compliance with all such agreements and, accordingly, no amounts are recorded as a liability in these financial statements related to this funding.

(c) Government capital contribution for a program:

During the year, The Salvation Army acquired title to a property in Milton, Ontario from the Province of Ontario as part of an agreement to operate a program for young offenders. Under the agreement, the Province retains the right to reacquire the property, valued at $4,440 at the time of acquisition; under certain conditions such as if The Salvation Army ceases to operate the program. The Salvation Army intends to operate the program for the foreseeable future and to meet all conditions set by the Province for its operations; as a result, the transfer of property has been reflected in these financial statements as an increase in capital assets and by recognizing revenue in the form of capital contributions.

(d) Legal actions:

The Salvation Army is party to legal actions arising in the ordinary course of operations. While it is not feasible to predict the outcome of these actions, it is the opinion of management that the resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the operations of The Salvation Army.

19. Contingencies and commitments (continued):

(e) Environmental contamination:

The Salvation Army periodically assesses whether any of its properties have been environmentally contaminated. These assessments are not in response to any governmental or regulatory directives. Management records remediation expenses when the timing, extent and cost of corrective actions can be reasonably estimated.

(f) Indemnification of directors and officers:

The Salvation Army has indemnified its past, present and future directors, officers, trustees, employees and volunteers against expenses (including legal expenses), judgments and any amount actually or reasonably incurred by them in connection with any wrongful act in which the directors are sued as a result of their service, if they acted honestly and in good faith with a view of the best interests of The Salvation Army. The nature of the indemnity prevents The Salvation Army from reasonably estimating the maximum exposure. The Salvation Army has purchased directors' and officers' liability insurance with respect to this indemnification.

20. Fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities:

The carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, principally from Salvation Army entities, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and restricted deposits approximate their fair values due to the relatively short periods to maturity of these items or because they are receivable or payable on demand.

The fair values of securities are disclosed in note 5.

Fair value estimates are made at a specific point in time, based on relevant market information and information about the financial instruments. These estimates are subjective in nature and involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment and, therefore, cannot be determined with precision. Changes in assumptions could significantly affect the estimates.

21. Haiti earthquake:

During the year, The Salvation Army collected funds to provide financial support for relief, rehabilitation and reconstruction projects in earthquake affected areas of Haiti. The Government of Canada, via the Canadian International Development Agency ("CIDA") created a Haiti Earthquake Relief Matching Fund to contribute the equivalent amount of aid as collected by The Salvation Army.

Between January 12, 2010 and February 12, 2010, The Salvation Army collected $4,881 from individual Canadians, as declared in the letter of attestation to CIDA dated February 25, 2010.
