JEREMIAH 1:5

RESPONSIVE READING

Leader:

Before you were formed in the womb, God knew you.

People:

I am known by God — fully, deeply, and completely.

Leader:

Before you were born, God set you apart.

People:

I am set apart — chosen for His holy purpose.

Leader:

God appointed you
to bear His message, to shine His light,
to live with purpose in the world.

People:

I am appointed — not by accident, but by design. God has given me a calling.

JEREMIAH 1:5

Leader:

When we feel uncertain or unworthy,
God reminds us:
"I chose you. I called you. I will be with you."

People:

Even when I feel too young, too weak, or not enough — God's purpose still stands.

Leader:

He speaks identity over you:
Known. Set apart. Appointed.

All Together:

We are known by the Creator. We are set apart for His glory.
We are appointed to live for His purpose.
Here we are, Lord — send us.

PRAYER PROMPTS

We recognize not every corps has individuals who are exploring full-time vocational ministry, however, we are still part of God's greater story of calling. While you may not give full emphasis to Call and Commitment Sunday, you are invited to pray, standing shoulder to shoulder with others across our territory, praying for God to raise up men and women who will say yes to His calling on their lives, and that His church will never lack faithful workers for the harvest.

Let us pray with expectancy that hearts will be stirred, leaders will be raised up, and that together, we will continue to be a people ready to say, "Yes, Lord."

Below are several prayer prompts you can use to guide your time of reflection and intercession.

- Ask God to send workers into the harvest as Jesus prayed (in Matthew 9:38).
- Pray for a quiet and receptive heart to hear God's voice.
- Pray for individuals who are discerning God's calling on their lives – that they would experience His abiding peace.
- Pray that fear, doubt or feelings of inadequacy will not silence God's call.
- Pray that hearts will remain open to whatever God asks of them.
- Pray for hearts willing to surrender plans, comfort, or security in obedience to God's call.
