EXPANDING ORANGE (BONUS FEATURES)

As you get going, you'll want to come back here to learn more about the additional features and resources available to you through ORANGE and the @theREADY Discipleship Framework.

Or maybe you're super-excited, and wanna take a sneak peek right now...

Here's a taste of what else you'll be able to integrate into your discipleship efforts as you begin to peel back what's inside: (see what we did there?)

We want to help you engage the emerging culture with relevant tools, without having to recreate the wheel or spend all your time researching the latest trends in your kids' world.

We also believe that good resources, not only provide useful and relevant tools, but also help develop leaders while they use those tools.

What we have available to us—and to you—in ORANGE curriculum, strategy and resources, equips leaders in these areas, and more...

Small Group Leader:

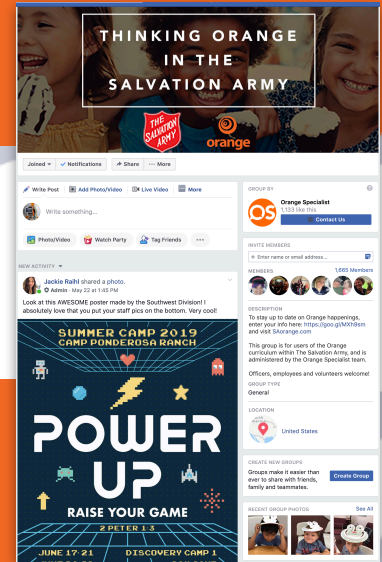

By now, you've probably noticed that there is a whole bunch of new terms we're beginning to use in reference to our resources and how we disciple the next generation.

You can scroll over new terms on these pages to give you a brief description of what is being talked about, or you can download a Glossary of Terms here:

And once you get going, using ORANGE, you'll be sure to have more questions, want to share ideas—or see how others are implementing the curriculum and resources in their settings.

Join the Thinking ORANGE in The Salvation Army Facebook Group, where questions are answered quickly, and you've got idea sharing at your fingertips!

As you begin accessing and using your new curriculum and discipleship tools, you can always jump back to this page for a refresher (and send your leaders here for an initial orientation), as well as access the videos above, plus more, directly from your ORANGE account under "Training Materials" next to your "Curriculum Downloader".
