ARMATUS ONLINE ABUSE PREVENTION TRAINING

Armatus® Online Abuse Prevention Training

Welcome to Armatus! We have developed some helpful hints to ensure you retain what you learn. Good luck and enjoy your courses.

1. Right Place, Right Time

Set the right conditions for learning. Create an environment with no interruptions, no phone calls, and no distractions—simple as that. Set aside 30 to 45 minutes for each course so you don't have to hurry.

2. Take your Time

Have patience and take your time. Read carefully to make sure you fully understand the content. Instead of rushing through the training, plan to complete only one or two courses each time you login so you can really absorb what you've learned. Complete each course from beginning to end. If you stop a course before you finish it, you'll have to start over at the beginning of the section where you left off.

3. Follow the Orange Arrows

When it's time to move to the next page, an orange arrow will appear. Click the orange arrow to move forward. Do not use your Internet browser's forward and back arrows or refresh buttons, or you'll find yourself back at the beginning of the course!

4. Think about It

Lastly, pause and think about what you are learning. Throughout the course, think about how you can apply what you are learning to your own position. We know that with proper concentration you can understand and apply what you learn. When you pass the quiz at the end of the course, you'll earn credit.

5. Enroll and Begin Training

To enroll:

1. Go to www.praesidiuminc.com/enroll
2. Enter the registration code: safety1.
3. Fill out the form and click the link to enroll.

GUIDELINES FOR OFF-SITE CONTACT

OFF-SITE/OUTSIDE CONTACT

Many cases of organizational abuse occur off-site and outside of regularly scheduled activities. This contact outside of regularly scheduled activities may put staff, volunteers and The Salvation Army at increased risk.

The Salvation Army strongly recommends that staff do not have off-site contact with a child, youth or vulnerable person away from The Salvation Army. However, if off-site contacts are unavoidable, The Salvation Army has determined that the following forms of off-site contact are appropriate and inappropriate:

Appropriate Off-Site Contact	Inappropriate Off-Site Contact

- a. Supervisors should identify for personnel what types of off-site contact are appropriate and inappropriate.

RESOURCE MANUAL #15

SAMPLE FACILITY MONITORING CHECKLIST

THIS CHECKLIST CAN BE USED FOR PREPRATION FOR ANNUAL REVIEWS AND AN OVERALL SAFETY TOOL TO ENSURE THE FACILITY MINIMIZES ANY RISK TO THOSE IN OUR CARE

FACILITY MONITORING CHECKLIST

At the beginning of each week, create a facility monitoring schedule for each site. On a daily basis, ensure that staff complete this checklist at different times during the daily activities (e.g. during summer programs, if the facility monitoring checklist is completed at 10 a.m. on Monday, have it completed at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, and so on). For summer activities, the following checklist should be completed multiple times throughout the day.

- All unused rooms, offices, storage areas and closets are locked.
- All windows permit observation into program areas and offices (i.e., artwork on windows should not prevent informal monitoring by passersby; all blinds on windows should be open).
- All staff are identifiable and dressed in the appropriate uniforms.
- All program activities are within the designated ratios (insert your ratios here).
- Staff are spread out in the activity area and actively supervising the youth.
- Washrooms
 - The washroom is clean.
 - Neither youth nor adults are just “hanging out” in the washrooms.
 - There is only one youth per stall.
- All youth remain in facility areas that are easily viewed by staff (i.e., youth are not wandering off by themselves without adults present to supervise them).
- The Army utilizes a system for checking youth into and out of the facility.

SITE-SPECIFIC CONSIDERATIONS

- For sites that have stages (such as in a school cafeteria), stage curtains should remain open at all times so that youth cannot sneak behind the curtains.

- For playgrounds, staff should be positioned around the perimeter of the playground to ensure that youth are supervised and that they remain in the assigned area. Staff should also be stationed near playground equipment (such as tunnels and jungle gyms) that does not allow for line-of-sight supervision.

RESOURCE MANUAL #16

SAMPLE OFF-SITE ACTIVITY SHEET

4. Parent permission sheet attached to this document for review.

5. Name and cellphone number of the supervisor for the off-site activity.

6. The staff-to-youth ratio for the trip and names of all who will be attending.

RESOURCE MANUAL #17

SAMPLE CONSIDERATIONS FOR LEADERS-IN-TRAINING PROGRAMS

CONSIDERATIONS FOR LEADERS-IN-TRAINING PROGRAMS

1. Define the leaders-in-training program.

i. What is the goal of the program?

- For example, is the program designed for older youth who desire to become staff, or is it designed for youth too old for the program, but who still want to participate?

ii. How does the program fit the mission of the Army?

iii. What is the teen leader's role in the program?

iv. What ages of youth are allowed to participate in the program?

v. Are the teen leaders categorized as staff or volunteers?

vi. Who is responsible for supervising the teen program?

2. Create policies for the leaders-in-training program.

- Outline appropriate and inappropriate physical, verbal, emotional and behavioural boundaries between teen leaders and youth, and between teen leaders and staff.
- Prohibit teen leaders from being one-on-one with youth.

- Prohibit teen leaders from escorting youth to the washrooms.
- Prohibit teen leaders from assisting youth with changing their clothes.
- Require teen leaders to wear clothing or lanyards that identify them as leaders-in-training and differentiate them both from staff and younger youth.
- Develop policies governing where teen leaders can spend their time off. For example, are teen leaders permitted to hang out in areas reserved for staff?

3. Create screen practices for the leaders-in-training program.

- Require teen leaders to fill out an application.
- Check references from the teens' parents, teachers, staff and/or coaches.
- Interview the teen leaders. Include the teens' parents in these interviews when possible.

4. Train teen leaders.

- Train staff and supervisors in how to monitor teen leaders.
- Require teen leaders to attend abbreviated trainings on the following topics:
 - Their role as a leader, including what they are allowed and not allowed to do.
 - General abuse risk management, boundaries and self-protection.

5. Monitor teen leaders.

The Salvation Army should provide parents with a written document explaining its policies and procedures related to abuse prevention. This document should, at a minimum, include the following:

1. The Salvation Army's code of conduct for working with children and youth (see Resource Manual #4).
2. The Salvation Army's policies regarding appropriate and inappropriate displays of affection (see Resource Manual #6).
3. The Salvation Army's policies regarding off-site contact (see Resource Manual #7).

PERSONAL SAFETY MESSAGE FOR YOUTH

Salvation Army personnel should conduct orientations with new youth to provide information about how to protect themselves from abuse. Salvation Army personnel should encourage the youth to use the following reminder if anyone makes them feel uncomfortable while they are in Salvation Army programs:

If someone makes me feel uncomfortable, scared or hurt, I will yell "STOP" and GO TELL an adult who listens. I have a right to be safe. I deserve respect.

Some youth will still be afraid to report other youth or adults who make them feel uncomfortable, so it is important that the Army provides youth with an anonymous way to make reports. This can be accomplished by creating a suggestion box or a talk box. The weekly orientation should include a discussion about the suggestion box. The director should let youth know that they can use this anonymous method to suggest or report anything, such as:

1. New activities that they would like at the Army.
2. Different snack options.
3. Serious incidences such as bullying or sexual abuse by another youth.
4. Staff and volunteers who make them feel uncomfortable.

The director should let the youth know that only designated Army leadership will read the reports. Army leadership must decide how each report will be handled, including documentation, response to youth, parent involvement, etc.

FEEDBACK FROM PARENTS AND YOUTH

1. Formal Feedback

Programs should survey youth and their parents periodically. In addition to the questions on your current Army surveys, consider adding additional items related to abuse risk management.

For youth surveys, consider the following questions:

- a. What was your favourite part the program? What was your least favourite part?
- b. Did you like the staff? Why or why not?
- c. Did you like the other youth at the program? Why or why not?
- d. Do you want to come back next year? Why or why not?

For parents, consider the following questions:

- a. How satisfied are you with the Army in general?
- b. How satisfied are you with the way your child was treated by the staff?
- c. Would you recommend the Army to your friends? Why or why not?
